

Seven New Features from Collector Revolution: "Zoom," PayPal Upgrade, and More

The next time you visit Collector Revolution, be sure to check out the great features that we have added to the website. We've included tweaks to existing tools, like our Bulk Image Uploader, as well as completely new options, such as a way to duplicate listings (and save a ton of time when selling your items.)

More Details about the New Features

Zoom In

Typically, serious collectors want to inspect items before they buy, and sellers need a way to demonstrate the quality of their products. Our zoom feature gives users a closer look at the condition of items for sale.

List a Similar Item

Listing items should be quick and easy so you can sell more, faster. Thanks to your feedback, adding items to Collector Revolution is simpler than ever.

Now, when you have a lot of similar items to sell, you can duplicate a listing and change only the details that matter. Click, edit... done.

Filter CR Rewards Store Items By Sport

The Collector Revolution Rewards Store lets you redeem points for free merchandise, like top-brand boxes and packs. Since we add about 15 items every month to the store, we're making it easier to find the rewards you want with a new filter feature.

Seller's Page Sort & Filter Option

Collector Revolution used to show items on the seller's page in the order that they were listed. However, our sellers told us that they needed an easier way for buyers to find items they might want.

We've delivered. Now, you can sort items by sport, year, team, and more.

Greater Support for Bulk Image Uploader

Collector Revolution's Bulk Image Uploader is a huge time-saver for sellers. Instead of having to choose one image at a time for an item you are listing, you can select and upload a group of images. We've added a "help" section to this feature so that it's even easier to use.

"Combined Shipping" Option for Buyers

Sellers can now offer combined shipping when someone buys multiple items from them. It's a quick and easy way for sellers to save buyers money on the cost of their purchases.

Better PayPal Integration

Many of our users rely on PayPal for sales and purchases. Well, we discovered a problem: when users registered for Collector Revolution with an email address different from the address they use with PayPal, the systems weren't playing nicely together.

Now, users can go into their CR Member Dashboard and select an address to use with PayPal. Problem solved.

Collector Revolution is continually looking for ways to enhance your buying and selling experience. Contact us with your feedback and ideas, and stay tuned for more features and promotions as we roll them out!
