SERVICES: WHAT WE DO

Home Delivery

Reach customers wherever they live. Individuals and businesses use Meridian for home deliveries with special requirements, including removal and installation.

Logistics Program Development

Meridian creates reliable, efficient logistics and warehouse networks for customers so that they can focus on their core business.

Technology

3PL companies and other businesses leverage Meridian's data tracking and mapping software to improve their operations.

Business Delivery

Meridian's "final mile" service can warehouse, transport, and deliver goods from business to business worldwide.

Truckload / Less-Than-Truckload

Whether a customer has a single item with unique requirements or high-volume, high-velocity shipping needs, Meridian delivers.

Air Freight and International

By air or ocean, rely on Meridian's seamless delivery network. We offer various cargo options, licensed customs brokers, and international service partners.

"Meridian has proven to provide superior service with our high volume, high velocity, nationwide, home delivery platform. Meridian's combination of expert staff and operationally developed software is a no nonsense combination that gives us the excellent service that we require."
- A cabinet manufacturing customer

"Our B2B delivery platform requires that our finished goods meet with installers at destination at a precise time in hospitals and care centers, usually after hours. Meridian's communication system software broadcasts the time and delivery coordinates to the install teams to streamline the coordination. No other provider even comes close to their innovation and results."

THE MERIDIAN EDGE

The value Meridian offers comes from capabilities we have developed in over a half-century of delivery and logistics experience. Explore our technology, solutions, and management.

Superior Technology

Meridian's approach to data and tracking lets us manage a business' entire supply chain with precision. It's one of the reasons we offer a 98% on-time rate regardless of the white-glove or unique requirements of the delivery.

Our technology serves customers in two ways:

1. It gives our team essential, immediate information for managing the warehousing, transportation, and delivery of products. Meridian's integrated computer environment identifies potential delays, solving problems in advance rather than reacting too late.
2. The businesses Meridian supports can access this same data. The transparency we offer gives home and business delivery customers confidence in our work. They can also easily share delivery details with their own customers.

We operate a custom-built technology platform that combines online and offline data from websites, mobile devices, GPS, handheld scanners, B2B EDI's and more. This all connects to our logistics network, which lets us dictate behavior, measure metrics, and turn data into action. Our technology allows us to connect our network to the business objectives of our clients through metrics that promote winning operational behavior.

Simple Solutions

Businesses with ambitious goals face complex challenges. Meridian offers solutions without over-complicating the process.

We start by learning everything we can about the customer's needs. With our years in service and our size, we can often adapt an existing solution, eliminating the "learning curve" customers might have with less experienced logistics and white-glove delivery providers.

Then, we apply our knowledge and systems. Meridian's technology lets us verify that deliveries reach checkpoints, or "gateways." Each gateway and delivery sends Meridian detailed data, and we are able to make decisions automatically based on this information.

This approach gives us simple-but-powerful control over the entire logistics network, and it lets customers focus on their business instead of on their deliveries.

Unparalleled Management

There is no substitute for practical experience. Our management and employees are operationally-tested logistics professionals, and we marry boots-on-the-ground practicality with proven technology and systems.

Meridian maintains tight integration with our transportation and warehousing providers. We cover North America with over 40 managed distribution centers, and our international network allows us to deliver worldwide.

Each provider is vetted thoroughly to ensure it shares the qualities that have made Meridian a worldwide leader in third-party logistics: security, quality of service, timeliness, and care for our customers' deliveries. Our close management provides customers with a reliable and positive experience.

HOME DELIVERY

Focus on creating and selling products—not on how to get them into a customer’s hands. Home delivery by Meridian Worldwide Transportation Group makes it possible.

As logistics experts, Meridian helps businesses and individuals with specialized delivery needs reach customers wherever they are. We offer effective solutions to complex challenges in home delivery and an on-time rate of 98%.

How Meridian Supports Home Delivery

White-Glove Care

Many customers need to ship bulky, heavy, or fragile goods. Whether it’s barbecue grills or pool tables, patio furniture or medical equipment, Meridian reliably and securely transports products the final mile for curb, door, dock, garage, or inside delivery.

On-site Tear Down / Setup

Companies often want more than transportation for their products. They require a partner to remove old items from the home delivery location or install items, such as kitchen cabinetry. Meridian’s team has the training and customer service needed for these requirements.

High-Volume / High-Velocity Home Delivery

Meridian helps businesses meet ongoing demand by developing a logistics system for their network. Our technology, experience, and infrastructure help companies keep their commitments to their customers.

Hard-to-Reach Locations

Give Meridian the big challenges: home delivery to remote areas; second-story deliveries; multiple-piece orders. Our team can handle it. Meridian delivers to every postal code in the United States and Canada. In fact, we deliver to nearly 80% of all postal codes at least once per week, including remote locations and “points beyond.”

Supported by Home Delivery Technology

Know the network. Meridian customers have web-based visibility into their delivery and logistics network. Our investment in technology allows us to respond to potential concerns before they delay deliveries. We back this system with a responsive, U.S.-based call center.

Give customers confidence. Businesses can leverage our warehouse, transportation, and delivery information for their own customers. We provide a complete data transfer (EDI, HTML, XML, flat files) so that the companies we support can offer the same level of transparency and information to their home delivery recipients.

Truckload / Less-Than-Truckload

Meridian delivers ongoing, bulk shipments as well as individual items that have unique requirements. Our priority for both is on-time and safe delivery.

Many private parties use Meridian to tackle a one-time delivery need, whether it’s a motorcycle, sensitive electronics, or glassware. If it’s bulky or heavy, requires special handling or is going to a hard-to-reach location, Meridian is the right option.

BUSINESS DELIVERY

For companies with unique requirements, Meridian Worldwide Transportation Group offers reliable, scalable business delivery services. Over $2 billion in goods flow through our network each year.

Learn how choosing Meridian allows customers to focus on their core business while maintaining complete control over their delivery network.

Special Care in Business Delivery

White Glove.

Many customers need to transport bulky, heavy, or fragile goods. Meridian's operators prioritize the safety and security of goods from pick-up to delivery, whether it is copy machines, office furniture, or medical equipment.

Final Mile.

Meridian team members can deliver items to wherever they need to go: curb, door, dock, garage, or inside. We offer business delivery to remote areas; second-story deliveries; and multiple-piece orders, and we transport items to nearly 80% of all U.S. postal codes at least once per week.

On-site Tear-Down and Setup.

Combining transportation with service, Meridian operators can remove unwanted items from the delivery location. This saves the end customer the cost and time of hauling these items away. Meridian can also construct or install equipment on-site.

Capacity and Capabilities

High-Volume / High-Velocity Business Delivery.

Meridian meets increasing demands with superior technology and logistics systems. We help our customers scale so that they can keep their commitments to their customers.

Warehouse. Meridian's warehouse services include merge in transit, vendor-managed, pick-pack, and other options.

Less-Than-Truckload Business Delivery.

We can deliver individual items that have unique requirements. If an item is bulky or heavy, needs special handling, or is going to a hard-to-reach location, Meridian is the right choice.

Proven Logistics Systems

1. Even as Meridian focuses on the most difficult deliveries, we maintain an on-time rate of over 98%. Our technology allows us to respond to potential concerns before they create delays. We back this system with a responsive, U.S.-based customer center.
1. Meridian gives business delivery customers visibility into their network. We offer electronic data transfer options (EDI, HTML, XML, flat files) so that they can share status updates and tracking details with their own customers.
